

Ca. 1915

Plate 3 -- A portion of the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes in 1917
(Photo from Griggs, 1922)

"No photograph can convey more than a slight conception of the wonder and majesty of this sight as it first burst on our vision on crossing the Pass" R.F. Griggs

CALIFORNIA GEOLOGY
FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

A PORTION OF THE VALLEY OF TEN THOUSAND SMOKES WITH ITS MYRIADS OF STEAM COLUMNS RISING FROM THE FISSURED GROUND
The panorama extends from the southwest corner of the Valley to Baked Mountain, a distance of four miles, but includes considerably less than half the active area. In the center is the cookstove used in 1917.

CALIFORNIA INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY
PASADENA, CALIFORNIA

Photograph by R. F. Griggs